The UL International Crown is the first-of-its-kind biennial, team match play competition featuring the best female golfers from the top eight countries across the globe, based on the combined Rolex World Ranking of the top four players from each country.

Once the eight teams are determined, they'll be divided into Pools A and B, with each country competing against the others within their own pool. Each team will play two fourball matches against each country in its pool with points accumulating over the first three days. A win equals two points, a halve or tie is one point and a loss is zero points.

Upon completion of play on the third day, the two countries in each pool with the most points will advance to the final day's competition. The third ranked teams in each pool will compete for a wildcard playoff spot to compete on the final day.

On Sunday, the final day, countries will be seeded based on their total points from the first three days of competition. Each country will play a singles match against every other country. The same points carry over from the week and the country with the most points wins!

The second playing of the UL International Crown will be held July 21 – 24, 2016 in Chicago, IL.

The Race to the CME Globe is a season-long points competition in which LPGA members accumulate points in every official LPGA tournament. At the end of the season, the player with the most points will be crowned 'Race to the CME Globe Champion.'

Players accumulate points from the Pure Silk Bahamas LPGA Classic through the Lorena Ochoa Invitational Presented by Banamex. Points will then be reset for the CME Group Tour Championship to ensure that the points race will be determined at the season-ending event.

Official LPGA events will award 500 Race to the CME Globe points for first place. Each of the five major championships will carry 25% more value and award 625 Race to the CME Globe points for first place.

Following completion of the Lorena Ochoa Invitational, the field for the CME Group Tour Championship will be set and players gaining entry will be reseeded based on their position on the point standings.

The reset points will give the year's top performers an advantage heading into the CME Group Tour Championship, but will not guarantee victory.

At the conclusion of the CME Group Tour Championship, the points each player earns based on her finish position at that event will be added to her reset points. The player with the most points will be awarded the crystal globe as 'Race to the CME Globe Champion.'
